General Antonoss is said to be moving on Moscow with 60,000 peasants.

MARCH, FICKLE MONTH, IS MEMORABLE FOR A VARIETY OF REASONS

March, the memorable.

This month is made memorable in a number of ways. It has been four years since a presidential inauguration, always an event of March 4 And it has been three years since Easter Sunday has occurred in March. This year Easter Sunday falls on March 27.

St. Patrick's Day, the Irish Saint's Day, also makes its appearance this month, coming on Thursday, March 17. This date is not only kindly remembered by the Irish alone who wear the "green shamrock" but in respect of St. Patrick, other nationalities in the United States wear the "green"

On March 20, at 10:51 p. m. Eastern Standard time, comes the vernal equinox and the grand official opening of spring. This is an event looked forward to with pleasure ever since the coal pile began to dwindle. Business "will pick up in the spring," is the optimistic forecast.

March is also the month of opposites—a lamb coming in and a lion as it departs. It is the month of wild winds and delightful zephyrs, of new hats for the women. It is also the month of fence building, of seed planting and early plowing. The radish and lettuce in the gardens begin to germinate this month.

March is the month of the beginning of marbles, hop-scotch and baseball. The major, minor and amateur baseball leagues commence their spring practice this month.

March will also be remembered as a flood stricken month in the year of 1913. In March, 1913, one of the greatest floods in the history of Coshocton-co visited Coshocton and other neighboring towns.

Last but not least this month is known for the return of the migrating birds and of the household renovation and backyard recreation.

PIONEER SELF-SERVE GROCERY PASSES, TO MAKE ROOM FOR NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISE

The Central Grocery Co, in the Selby building on Main-st is selling out its stock in order to vacate the room for a new business.

This was the first "self serve" and "cash and carry" store to operate in Coshocton. The store has apparently been a success and many conjectures are being made as to what kind of a business is to take its place.

When questioned upon the subject Saturday evening E. O. Selby, owner of the store and store-room and sponsor of the new business, stated that he had nothing to make public, other than that the grocery would sell its stock of goods and vacate the room within two weeks.

MAYOR COMPROMISES WITH OFFENDING LODGE MEMBERS, EXACTING PLEDGE THAT GAMBLING IN CLUB ROOMS WILL HEREAFTER BE TABOO

"All members of this Aerie and visiting brothers will refrain from playing any game or games of chance for gain in or about the club rooms of this lodge by order of the trustees."

This warning posted in the club rooms of the Eagle lodge is the final result of the arrest of 18 men in those rooms for gambling, Saturday evening, February 19.

Mayor Tish said Saturday that it was a well known fact that considerable gambling has been in progress in some of the local club rooms. Complaints from anxious mothers, wives and even children often reach the mayor. The police and mayor have warned these places but apparently without result.

Upon the complaint of a wife, a raid was made upon the rooms of the Eagles Saturday evening February 19. Eighteen men, 15 of them playing cards, were found in the rooms. The fifteen were seated at two separate tables. They were using chips for stakes. No money was in sight. The men promised to the time to come clean with the mayor, and he in turn allowed them to go free from Saturday evening until Monday morning when they were to appear in his court. In the meantime the men got together with an attorney, who, it is said, advised them to plead not guilty to a charge of gambling. Whether that was the advice given by the attorney or not, the men all pleaded not guilty.

In order for the court to prosecute the men with any degree of success, it would have been necessary for the prosecution to call in other members of the lodge who were witnesses. They would have either perjured themselves by denying that the men were gambling, or have turned against their lodge brothers, and been false to their oath of brotherhood, the mayor said Saturday.

One of the men told the mayor that the men were not playing poker. He said that they were playing "peek" which he said was a Chinese game. He said that this was not a gambler's game. Authorities on the subject told the mayor that "peek" was one of the fastest poker games ever invented.

After duly considering the matter the mayor submitted a plan to the trustees of the lodge whereby they would draw up and sign a statement prohibiting all gambling in the rooms of the lodge. The cases against the men will remain open indefinitely and if they are caught gambling again they will be prosecuted on both charges.

The trustees of the Eagle lodge agreed to the mayor's plan and the above notice was signed.

One other lodge has posted similar warnings in its rooms since the raid on the Eagles.

PRESIDENT HARDING CONFERS WITH SECRETARY HUGHES ON LATIN AMERICA'S DIFFICULTY

Controversy Over Panama-Costa Rica Boundary, Which Has Reached Stage of Bloodshed is Subject of Hour's Secret Discussion

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Warren G. Harding ran into an involved situation affecting our Latin-American relations on his very first day in the white house today.

The controversy between Panama and Costa Rica over boundary lines, which has reached the stage of bloodshed, was considered sufficiently grave by the new president that he and his new secretary of state, Chas. Evans Hughes conferred for more than an hour on the matter.

Secretary of War Weeks and Secretary of the Navy Denby also participated in the conference. Secretary Hughes would not discuss the conference as he left the white house and crossed the street to the state department.

"I have nothing to say," he declared.

Just prior to the conference, it was announced at the navy department that Admiral Wilson, commanding the Atlantic fleet has been instructed to take all necessary steps to protect the lives and property of American citizens in the danger zones.

The gunboat Sacramento already has been sent from Crysobal to Almirante in Panama. The Sacramento was dispatched with the approval of the state department.

The United States is in a delicate position in the Panama-Costa Rican dispute. The controversy over the boundary has been one of long standing, and it was put up to Edward Douglas White, chief justice of the United States supreme court for adjudication.

The decision was rendered and it did not find favor with Panama. The Panamans in effect, have refused to recognize it and consider the question of the boundary unchanged The Costa Ricans found the decision to their liking and proceeded to take over the portion of territory in dispute, resulting in armed conflict. Under the agreement made at the time the canal was built, the United States undertook to police the zone and give Panama any military protection that was necessary, making unnecessary a Panaman army. It is now the contention of Panama that under this agreement, the United States is duty bound to protect her against Costa Rica.

That is where the embarrassing part comes in for the United States. By taking sides with Panama the

OCTOGENARIAN SEEKS RE-ADMISSION TO COUNTY HOME AFTER WANDERING SINCE EXPULSION LAST SEPTEMBER

An 81 year old man, giving his name as Benjamin Lower appealed to Mayor W. S. Tish Saturday morning for aid in getting into the Coshocton-co infirmary.

Lower said that he had been in the local County home for three months last fall but was forced to leave by the superintendent because he could not carry a tub of water down stairs. He said that he had been crippled with rheumatism for years and that it was almost impossible for him to lift anything.

He has no relatives and when he was turned out of the infirmary in September, 1920 he did not know where to go. He wandered around for a few days and finally ended up in Baltic, where he said that he did chores for his room and board. He tried to get into the Stark-co infirmary but was told that it was full and that he could not stay there.

When he left Baltic he drew $17 out of the bank, which was all the money he had. Just outside of Baltic he said that he was held up bp two men and robbed of his money. He reported to the mayor, and the people made up a collection and paid his fare to Coshocton. He slept in the city prison Friday evening.

Mayor Tish said that this was the second case of old people being turned out of the local infirmary The mayor was making arrangements to have the old fellow re-instated in the infirmary.

CENTRAL HIGH GIRLS ADD A SHUTOUT TO LIST OF VICTORIES

Crooksville Squad Fails to Locate Basket On Own Floor Friday

The Coshocton Hi girls' varsity aggregation showed no mercy on the Crooksville girls' basketball club Friday night when they shut out the country lassies in their own home town by the score of 25 to 0 The Coshocton high girls were real "village cut-ups" on the Crooksville gym floor

The Crooksville aggregation was completely outclassed in every stage of the game The team work was poor compared with that of the Coshocton team

The Coshocton girls were full of pep, vim and vigor. They demonstrated some real basketball science to the team and spectators in that village Friday night The C H. S. pass work was marvelous and there was'nt a flaw in the visiting basketball machinery

To say the least about the Coshocton girls they were not charged with a single foul by the referee.

Doris Dencer and Helen Brode were point getters of the evening.

Miss Dencer caged five baskets and dropped in one foul goal. Miss Brode exerted herself in bucketing the ball four times. Leone Dencer tossed three baskets. Miss Ingham and Miss Lower held the remainder of the Crooksville team at bay while the forwards and the center "put on the work." The Coshocton girls gave the home team a good initiation in all three degrees

By defeating the Crooksville aggregation, the Coshocton girls won their eighth straight victory.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER IS PLANNING IMPROVED ROAD THRU COSHOCTON, GT. LAKES TO RIVER

Seven Miles of Highway Near Coshocton Would Be Hard Surfaced—Major Portion of Cost Would Be Borne By State—Other Roads Would Have to Wait—Route Includes West Lafayette and Conesville

An improved inter county highway straight thru from Cleveland to Marietta is the plan of the state highway commission according to one of the state commissioners who met with the Coshocton-co commissioners this week.

That would mean the improvement of the road east of town from Wagner's Corners to Newcomerstown, and the improvement of the road from Conesville to Adams Mills in Coshocton co.

Every unimproved stretch of road in the counties thru which this inter-county highway would pass is to be improved, according to these plans. The state will aid generously with the cost of the improvement.

The state commissioner said that the state commission hoped to have the road completed within the next two years

He intimated that there will not be any more money expended from the state fund for other roads in the county until the road connecting the inter-county highway has been improved.

He gave instances of what the state had done in the way of paving their share on some portions of the road, and said that Coshocton would fare equally well. In one or two cases the state paid or arranged to pay as high as 75 per cent of the entire cost. The state commissioner did not give any specific figures on the amount of the cost that the state would stand, but the county commissioners were led to believe that the state commission would make a good deal with the county if the property owners along the road would agree to pay a reasonable share of the cost.

There would be only 7 miles of road in this county to improve. That would complete the improvement of the Pike's Peak Ocean to Ocean Highway in this county.

Muskingum-co would have about 14

At a meeting of the Livestock committee of the Farm Bureau held in the customers' room of the Coshocton National bank, it was decided to "swat" the scrub sires, or do away with the scrub bulls

Such sires are injurious to the cattle, it was pointed out.

Each township organization of interested breeders will try to do away entirely with the scrub sires and raise a better grade of bulls. Each township that gets rid of such sires will be put on the 100 per cent list. A scrub sire funeral will be held with a bull thistle and floral wreathes accompanied with appropriate eceremonies when this desired goal has been attained

KIDDIES' HEARTS ARE HEAVY, EYES ARE MOIST; CRUEL POISONER OF FAITHFUL FIDO PLAYMATES PLIES HIS NEFARIOUS PRACTICE RELENTLESSLY

Two little boys and a little sister were lonesome and blue Saturday. They were mourning the loss of their constant companion, a large handsome Collie pup and a frolicsome black and white fox terrier.

"Dickie" Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Howell south Fourth-st was the first to suffer the heartrending bereavement. His big Scotch Collie which was his daily playmate died early Friday morning. The dog had been poisoned

At noon Friday a little terrier on south Third st was reported dead from the same poison.

Then late Friday evening the black and white fox terrier belonging to C. R Frederickson also of south Fourth-st, began to mope around the house, apparently "all in." "Tiny" and "Tues" the two youngest children of Mr. and Mrs. Frederickson remembering the fate of "Dickie" Howell's pet insisted that father call the doctor. A veterinarian was called and he worked with the dog in vain. With tears in their eyes the two small children were forced to say good-bye to the friend and constant playmate of the past two years.

A reward of $25 has been offered by Mr Howell for information leading to the conviction and arrest of the party who so effectually placed the poison

Parents in the vicinity where the poisoning occurred were enraged Saturday at the thot that anyone would be so careless as to place poison on food, where young children were frequently playing. They say that it would be most natural for a child to pick up the poisoned food and eat of it, with fatal results.

LOST EL DORADO IS SOUGHT IN WILD CANONS OF COLORADO

Tale of Old Indian of Rich Gold Mine In Deep Canon LeadsMany to Plan a Search This Summer—Prospectors Were Murdered By Desperadoes

CRAIG, Col., March 5.—Is there another Eldorado in one of the numerous but almost inaccessible canons of w stern Moffat County, close to the Utah border line?

This is the burning question that is on the lips of scores of Craig residents, following vague intimations that the discovery of a rich deposit of placer gold in one of these deep canons has already resulted in the death of at least two persons.

The countryside around Duchesne, Utah, is also aroused over the story revealed here, and many oldtime prospectors are expected to trek the treacherous territory surrounding "Dead Man's Ledge," below the junction of the Yampa and Greene rivers this summer in search of the reported gold ledge.

A little heap of bones and fragmentary snatches of an old Indian's tale, are the only known facts of the story of the reputed strike of rich gold ore and a death fight with desperadoes—a story that reads like a chapter of fiction of the early west.

While exploring a steep cliff in Pool Canon, less than two miles below Yampa and Green Rivers, Harry Chew discovered a human skull exposed to view by the erosion of rocks that covered it. He dug into a large pile of loose rock and debris and brought to light sufficient human bones to construct two complete skeletons.

Later, Pete Madison, a prospector, came to the Chew ranch from Duschesne, Utah. Madison was looking for a rich deposit of placer gold, the approximate location of which had been told him by an aged Uintah Indian. Madison tramped the canons of the Green and Yampa streams, but was never able to find the gold. He declares he will make further efforts this summer to locate the "lost Eldorado."

Madison had been able to get only a disconnected story from the old Uintah Indian, who said that two white miners, with an escort of Indians, spent an entire winter in the Pats Hole section of Moffat County. The Indian who told the tale said he was one of the escort. All winter the miners worked at crude sluices, washing gold from the rich sands. By spring they had secured a large quantity of the precious yellow metal, estimated by the Indian to be about 25 pounds.

Taking their winter's cleaning, the party started west for a small Mormon settlement, to replenish their supplies. They had gone but a short distance when they were set upon by a band of desperadoes and outlaws. The two miners backed in a ledge and gave fight, while the four Indians fled.

Both the miners were killed by the outlaws, the Indian told Madison, and the bodies partially covered by prying off part of the ledge.

SUGAR BUSH TO FILL FARM WOODLOT GAPS

Have you a little sugar bush on your farm?

The growing of sugar maple is coming into favor and prized by many on account of its sugar product, according to the department of forestry, Ohio Experiment Station.

In addition the native species has a good timber value; it is well distributed over the State as a native forest tree.

Due to its adaptability, it may be planted in groves and on account of its tolerance may be used to fill gaps in woodlots, thus affording a future farm sugar bush.

Foresters state that the species is a moderate grower, requiring soils of moderate fertility, but not adaptable to dry, sterile ground.

ADVISE GREATER USE OF APPLE IN DIET

At present there is a million and a half barrels more apples in storage than a year ago, according to official figures.

The best of barrelled stock is being quoted at wholesale for $6 a barrel.

In view of this situation, it is held that consumers are justified in using more apples.

In an ideal diet, says Dean Alfred Vivian of the College of Agriculture, as much should be expended for fruits and vegetables together as for bread and cereals, and more than is spent for meat, butter, and other fats. The only article of diet for which one is justified in spending more is milk.

Apples supply necessary minerals, aid in preventing acidiosis, scurvy, and constipation, improve the sanitary condition of the bowels, and promote the growth of children. It has been demonstrated that the antiscorbutic vitamine contained in apples is an essential for normal growth.

PACKING HOUSE MEN THREATEN TO STRIKE

CHICAGO, Mar. 5. — Packing house employes thruout the entire United States are laying their lines today for a vigorous fight against any attempt the packers may make to reduce wages or lengthen the working day.

A strike of employes, union leaders intimated, is not an impossibility. The first move in the fight will be a conference of packing house employes at Omaha, March 9, and 10. The conference, according to the call sent out for it, will "take such action as will protect the interests of the workers." The packers are accused in a statement issued by Dennis Lane, secretary of the amalgamated meat cutters and butchers of America, with attempting to force "starvation wages" upon employes. It is alleged that several small concerns, subsidiaries of the large packers already have inaugurated the ten-hour work day.

Lane denies that labor costs are responsible for the cost of meat. Cancellation of the packers war-time agreements which were made with Judge Samuel Alschuler as arbiter is strongly criticized. The packers gave notice on February 26, that these agreements will be terminated.

Do you want to learn how to dance all sorts and conditions of jazz from the simple steps to the soul-shaking wonders of the rampant shimmy? Great is the great god cinema, indeed, for having introduced Parts fashions, merely to the process of being worn by stars, to the remotest provinces of the country, it is now beginning to show those same provinces the one-step and three-step—which, by the way, the provinces are already adept at. However, it is certain that Madge Kennedy "The Girl with the Jazz Heart," from the story by Robert Shannon, is replete with the dances of the day. Gilda Gray, noted shimmyist, is present among others. The picture comes at the Utahna theatre, Monday and Tuesday—Matinee and night, special music every night.

That servants still in the early teens can be obtained in South America for as low as three to five pesos a month, a peso being less than forty cents, is one of the surprising features of life there for the American housewife.

"Servant life here is something from which there is no escape," writes Bernice A. Miller, Physical Education Director for the Y. W. C. A. in Montevideo, Uruguay, South America. "The great army of servants are ignored by the census. Often mothers of the lower classes place their little girls before they reach their teens as servants at the low wage of a few pesos a month. Thus they begin at a tender age, a thankless and often a lifelong drudgery. It is the exceptional home that is without one or more servants."

There is a school law in Montevideo for compulsory education but there is also a law that children who come to school must wear shoes and the boys collars, ties and aprons. Some families send their young servants to school for half a day. Most of them evade the matter entirely.

The illegitimate birth rate in South America is said to be higher than in any other part of the world. Deserted children are so numerous that these little slaveys, often toiling from early morning until late at night, are to be found everywhere. Suicides are frequent among them.

The Y. W. C. A. under the direction of Miss Irene Sheppard of the National Board, many years a resident there, is striving to bring American standards and ideals of education and recreation, into the life of girls of all classes. Since 1911 when a law permitting the employment of women in government offices, was passed, girl stenographers and other workers have been in demand. One of the popular Y. W. classes is in stenography.

Nothing definite has been done about the proposition made by the state commissioner, but it is thot that the Coshocton-co commissioners are in favor of improving the road while the state will give its aid. The real decision remains in the hands of the property owners along this road.

The Bolshevik diplomatic representatives at Reval and elsewhere in the Baltic states were said to be deeply distressed at the trend of events in Russia.

"Power has passed into the hands of a temporary revolutionary committee headed by General Kozlovsky to whom both fleet and garrison are loyal. A call has been issued to all the Whites in Russia to join the present movement."

Rebel workmen at Petrograd assisted by soldiers and sailors and battleships have captured all of the right bank of the Nevsky as well as all of the important railway stations. Among the ships that went over to the insurgents was the cruiser Petropaviosk.

The rebels at Petrograd were nearly defeated at one juncture. At the critical moment a number of Red troops went over to the, however.

The Soviet commander called up reserves from Pskov, Luga, Yamburg and other places and is massing them on the outskirts of Petrograd.

Violet Heming, Musician

Violet Heming, who plays the leading role in "The Cost," the picture coming to the Pastime Theatre tomorrow, is a musician of considerable talent. Her ability to play several kinds of instruments stood her in good stead while scenes were being filmed for the picture, as she was called upon by the story to render selections upon both the piano and the pipe organ. The piano was real, but the pipe organ is a tribute to the ingenuity of the studio technical staff. In every detail it is an exact replica of a big church pipe organ.

Courage In Congress

CONGRESSMAN GRAHAM of the select committee on war expenditures shows the stuff that investigators should be made of. His report as chairman of the select committee on war expenditures upon the activities of the Standard Steel Car Company comes unpleasantly close to Andrew Mellon, who is now secretary of the treasury.

If the work of the war expenditures committee were partisan only, as has been charged, it would scarcely press accusations against a company of which Mr. Mellon was the principal director. Yet charges of fraud and theft are made by Mr. Graham against the Standard Steel Car organization. He points out that $18,582,000 was spent upon gun carriages that were never delivered until after the armistice.

He calls attention to the settlement of a claim against the government without audit, and to the purchase of government equipment at ridiculously low figures, materials costing $5,500,000 going for $300,000. In the case of this item a conspiracy between the company and army officers is suggested. Colonel E. S. Hughes, negotiating officer, is charged with concealing another bid from a reliable firm of $700,000.

The Steel Car Company case is of a piece with the United States Harness Company contract. If Mr. Daugherty is to retrieve the reputation of the attorney general's office he must sift these charges. The congressional committee has gathered astonishing evidence. It has proceeded in the face of public misunderstanding, and in the present instance obliterates party lines. It has done its work. If we are to have justice upon a question which at present touches the national honor as no other does, we must get it from the new national prosecutor.

WOODROW WILSON became President because of two accidents: the split in the Republican party and the two-thirds rule in the Democratic nominating convention. But for the first accident Mr. Taft would have been followed by a Republican. But for the second Champ Clark, who died Thursday, a disappointed man, would have been nominated and elected in 1912, and perhaps in 1916.

In this way Mr. Wilson had thrust upon him successsively two opportunities. The first was to translate traditional Democracy into terms of modern liberalism. In this he was as successful as the facts permitted. He spoke, and spoke well, for the tempered individualism of the western farmer, who loved his own small property rights but was deeply suspicious of big business, big industry, and big finance. The Americanism of Wilson would have been acceptable to Jefferson or the younger Adams.

It was the sort of doctrine that found favor in the second and third generations of pioneer communities, after the harshness of frontier life had been somewhat ameliorated and before the old freedom had departed. It had few points of contact with large-scale industrialism and centralized finance. Mr. Wilson never trusted these forces and yet he never knew how to combat them. He fell back upon a belief in competition and free initiative which had as little to do with the facts of modern life as a belief in stage coaches.

Mr. Wilson's second great opportunity was to translate American democracy—this time a national faith rather than a party or an institution—into international terms. How well he conceived the task his public speeches show. "We shall fight," he said in his war message, "for the things which we have always carried nearest to our hearts—for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own governments, for the rights and liberties of small nations, for a universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world itself at last free."

In his Mount Vernon speech more than a year later he added: "These great ends cannot be achieved by debating and seeking to reconcile and accommodate what statesmen may wish with their projects for balances of power and of national opportunity. They can be realized only by the determination of what the thinking peoples of the world desire, with their longing hope for justice and for social freedom and opportunity."

But the great ends were not accomplished, the great phrases died away into silence, the millennial mists drew up from the nearby slopes and trailed away to the distant mountain ridges. The world of 1921 is not a reformed or chastened world. The ideals which Mr. Wilson proclaimed, even tho he did not originate, may be brot within the range of practical statesmanship in twenty years, fifty years, or a century (if civilization survives that long without them), but not in this generation.

Why did Mr. Wilson fail? First, perhaps, it was because the task he attempted was impossible. But certain personal traits hindered him, among them, an impatience of criticism, an abnormal shyness or self-sufficiency, a total lack of tact, a tendency to be obstinate in non-essentials while yielding essentials, an inability to realize issues clearly until too late.

He tried, with these limitations and these weapons, shattered himself in the adventure, and failed. His place in history will be altogether determined by the later success or failure of his plan. Probably he never will be loved as Lincoln is, nor revered as Washington has been, but the judgment of him will always be mixed with respect and with pity.

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 7.—Snappy young cuff specters and lape eccentrically to advertise golf, monogrammed cigarettes and the young girls who believe that the promotion scales are now tending to perdition according to certain pulpiteers who constantly flay sin in this wicked city. It was first predicted that the fox trot would bring about moral chaos.

But when grandmamma got out of a lower section of her skirts, flopped on a circle rouge and did a dark afternoon trot it was not quite so bad and the world did not collapse. Then came the shimmy. Criticism was not confined to the pulpit. Hardened Broadwayites actually gasped at some of the jowl-to-jowl dancers who stood in a spotlight and shivered in ague like seizures.

New York was accustomed to seeing dimpled knees and decolette gowns that left nothing to the imagination on the musical comedy stage but the shimmy was a honky tonk dance whose appeal was blatantly sensual. There wasn't any real excuse for it unless perhaps to make vulgarity a virtue by exhibiting it in gilded surroundings.

Notorious shimmy dancers from Chicago and Barbary Coast underworlds were actually featured in girl and music shows and their names paraded in electric lights. The shimmy died as it deserved to die—quickly and without tears.

Several months ago came the toddle. It was in the beginning a silly, harmless kind of dance that a college boy might enjoy in an effort to show off. It was a dance executed on the ball of the foot by rocking back and forth.

Some of the society girls danced it without any shocking results. Then Broadway hoofers gave it a new twist. In the last few weeks the toddle has become more vulgar than the shimmy if that is possible. There are interpolations that would bring the blush to calloused cheeks.

The "professors" of cheap dancing academies in the Tenderloin are now advertising lessons in toddling. One sends out a circular which reads: "Learn to dance the toddle." Cleo Fitz invented it and that was the way she ensnared Napoleon." Of course historical data is slightly mixed; but you get the idea.

Down at Great Neck where Ring Lardner plays golf and grinds out deathless fiction, there is a celebrated loafer, who has never done a day's work. The other day Lardner was on his way to the golf course at 6 o'clock. He met the loafer outside his house.

"How did you happen to be up so early?" asked Lardner with just a touch of sarcasm.

"Well," said the loafer, "people are always bragging about being early risers. Why, Mr. Lardner, I don't missed being up to get my wife off to work at the laundry in ten years."

Speaking of loafing and other delightful topics, it is amazing how one gets into the habit of dropping work on Saturday in New York. In the summer no one works on Saturday most of the time and the rest of the time a half day. Those who have work that does not require pressure at an office finally drop all efforts at toil on Saturday. The industrious rebel at first and do their daily chores with a sort of holier-than-thou attitude of mind. And then they begin to slip, working a half day and then a half day now and then—and finally they succumb to the workless Saturday.

WALT MASON

THE PLUTE

Three years ago, in Estes Park, I met an oil-well millionaire, and life for him was just a lark, without a trouble or a care. His was the finest car in sight, for his own use designed and built, and when he went to roost at night he doubtless had an ermine quilt. Naught was too luscious for his blood, he had the price, and then some more; his royalties, in ceaseless flood rolled in, like breakers on the shore. But yesterday I sat me down upon a San Diego bench, to watch the cops patrol the town, and mark the other henchmen bench. A man who sat at my right hand remarked, "You know me not, alas! And yet I've often seen you stand and watch me cut all kinds of grass. You've heard my priceless auto toot along the mountain gorges dark; for I'm the gay and festive plute who brought high life to Estes Park. Then life was full and rich and sweet, but fortune is a fickle crone, and now I long for things to eat, and wish you'd stake me with a bone." Thus gamblers go their giddy ways, today they're rich, tomorrow poor; great chances fill their busy days, but nothing's certain, nothing sure. The rainbow's end they always seek; no rainbow's end I want in mine; I'd rather earn so much a week, and put the product down in brine.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

A BIT OF LOCAL HISTORY

Editor the Tribune:

The final settlement recently in our local court of a couple of big law suits brings to a close a controversy between the different owners of what is now known as the Lee Mill in Roscoe, and the State of Ohio, covering a period of two thirds of a century and stirs the memory of a famous mill and a famous business man of that early period.

The name of Arnold Medbery means nothing to this generation but in the pioneer days of this part of Ohio it was the best known name in the region comprised in a circle passing thru Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Toledo. Before the Ohio canal was in operation his name had become the synonym for energy, enterprises and business daring. Tho a young man he was already operating several large farms, running a general store, driving live stock to the Pittsburgh market and bringing across the mountains the various necessities and comforts required by the early settlers in this region of Ohio.

No sooner was the Ohio canal in operation than the farmers became aware that means must be had to convert their grain into flour, meal etc, but no one had the means and enterprise to make so large an investment. As soon as Medbery could borrow the money he built his first mill between the Ohio canal and the river near where the Williams mill now stands, and the farming interests were thus furnished a market that paid them a profit for their labor and investment: but soon after this mill was destroyed by fire and again Medbery was appealed to to care for them.

In the meantime the Walhonding canal had been built, and the in summer of 1856 the present mill was built between the Walhonding and the Ohio canals, and put into operation.

When Medbery applied to the State Board of Public Works for water to run his new mill it was denied him until he should deed his mill to the State. This he refused to do, but when the alternative was at last brot home to him of either abandoning a mill which had cost him more than forty thousand dollars, of borrowed money or complying with the demand and take his chances on losing it in the end, he executed the deed and set about trying to make the mill pay back the forty thousand dollars of borrowed money.

This condition of his affairs so preyed on his mind that in two years he died and the mill was sold for less than one-third its value to Barney, Demoss and Co. who rechristened the mill "The Empire Mill." This firm ran the mill till it was purchased some years ago by the Lee brothers and became known as "The Lee Mill."

From the time of the Medbery deed in 1860 till the cases above referred to were commenced the holders of the mill were at the mercy of the state Board of Public Works. Any demand for increase in rent (notwithstanding his lease was for thirty years at an agreed price) or for any other concession wanted by the Board was accompanied by a threat to dispossess the holders until their demands were met. This situation finally became intolerable, when in 1902 the Lees their rent for water privileges on were induced to more than double the promise that the Ohio canal was to be again made navigable from the lake to the Ohio River, but which the state failed to do.

When the Lees refused to pay additional rent on the state's abandoning its plan, they were notified to get off the state's property and turn over their mill to the state. This they refused to do and the suits above referred to were commenced; the first, to eject them from the premises and for judgment for damages for more than seven thousand dollars, and the second, for water rent for a similar amount, or in other words, to take from them their mill and their business and judgments for more than fourteen thousand dollars.

Fortunately the legislature of Ohio had, in the meantime, abolished the State Board of Public Works and created in its place a Superintendent of Public Works, and an honest man placed in charge, who had for his counsel a lawyer of sterling character and ability. When these two had looked into the rights of the parties and the State, they promptly offered terms of settlement which were as promptly accepted, and this outrage, inaugurated two-thirds of a century ago, was at last fairly and honorably righted.

We are sometimes reminded of those "good old days" when men were honest and honorable, noble and high minded, but our observation is that the generations are improving in all these virtues, and, had Arnold Medbery received the fair treatment his successors have just received he might have lived many years to advance the prosperity of his neighbors and the community.

Take care of it. If your little baby is sick, weak, puny or not properly developed in some part of the body there must be a CAUSE and nine times out of ten it is found in the spine. Do not wait with the expectation that the "baby" will outlive the weakness; have the spine examined and if necessary adjusted. Many a boy and girl has gone to a premature grave or lingered thru life a miserable cripple when a spinal analysis made in infancy would have detected some weakness which Chiropractic adjustments would have corrected.

READ!

Our baby was born December 5th, 1919. Always been sick, we had different doctors to see her. She gradually became worse—the case was finally diagnosed as decay of the flesh. We changed her food according to the doctor's advice, but she never was able to digest her food—constantly vomiting, ending with severe cramps—unable to sit up due to her weakened condition In December, 1920, we took her to Dr. Parrish. After the first week's adjustment we noticed a decided change—which prompted us to continue. After two months taking 18 adjustments she was able to digest her food perfectly and we now feel our baby is doing fine. In appreciation of what Dr. Parrish has done for her we give the permission to use this letter in any way that will benefit other parents.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

On legal affidavit, John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth.

"Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs."

After hair growth

INDIANS' SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

Mr. Brittain certified further: "At a time when I had become discouraged at trying to grow my hair again, I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he assevecated would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days."

True Hair Grower at Last

"That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind Plainly when told, mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the then mysterious pomade. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this, now called KOTALKO, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved."

A Brain Can't Work Right On Thin, Watery Blood

It takes Iron to make Strong, Forceful, Magnetic Men with the Power and Energy to Win

Many a capable intelligent man falls just short of success—nearly "gets there" but not quite—simply because he lacks sufficient iron in his blood to give him the physical strength and power to furnish the proper force to his brain and the "stay there" strength to be "still." A brain cannot do its work right—think the thoughts that win—on thin weak watery blood any more than a locomotive can pull a big train of cars with a weak smoldering fire under its boiler.

When your blood is starving for iron no mere tonics nor stimulants can put you right. You must have iron, for without iron your blood loses its power to change food into living tissue and nothing you eat does the proper amount of good. You do not get the full strength out of it. To get iron you must eat the husks of grains and the peels and skins of fruits and vegetables as our forefathers did, or take a little organic iron from time to time and eat more such iron-containing foods as spinach and apples. But be sure the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic or mineral iron which people usually take. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron, and is therefore an entirely different thing from organic iron.

Organic iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. It may be had from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such highly condensed form that one dose of it is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It's like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat.

To prove to yourself what Nuxated Iron will do, get your doctor to take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood-count" of your red corpuscles, then take Nuxated Iron for a month and have a new "blood-count" made and see how your red blood corpuscles have increased and how much stronger and better you feel; see how the color has come back to your cheeks, how steady and strong your nerves have become.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Always insist on having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters NI on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

JUDGE IN TRIGGER TRIAL BARS REAL EXPOSE OF CAUSE

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., March 5.—The trigger trial record for Friday's forenoon session bristled with sensations, but none of them was heard by the jury. All were offered by counsel for the defense, all were ruled out as evidence. They included charges which G. T. Blankenship, former sheriff of Mingo co. would have made had not state's objections been sustained by Judge Robert D. Bailey.

J. J. Conniff said:—"Counsel for the defendants here offered to show by this witness that on the Monday prior to these evictions at Matewan, P. J. Smith, superintendent of the Stone Mountain Coal Co. said to the witness 'I am going to have these people out of there (referring to the Union Miners and their houses) if we have to wade in blood up to our knees in the streets.'

"We offer to show by the witness that just prior to these evictions Albert Felts called upon the sheriff and asked him what was wrong with him. He said to the sheriff:—'If you will let me elect four or five deputies and not interfere with us, it would be worth twenty thousand dollars to you.' The sheriff refused and told him that was an insult, and that he did not want money that way.

"We offer to show by the same witness that in a conversation two or three weeks prior to the shooting, Albert Felts said that the coal operators had three milion dollars to spend in crushing unionism in this section, referring particularly to the United Mine Workers of America."

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over 50 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all way with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change." You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as try to get rid of rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders, and recover his strength from "The Inner Mysteries," now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of The Tribune and Times-Age wishes "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism" overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a post card or letter to H. P. Clearwater, No. 541 F Street, Hallowell, Maine. Send now, lest you forget. If not a sufferer, cut out this notice and hand this good news and opportunity to some afflicted friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge whatever.

SENATOR HENDERSON WOUNDED BY A CRANK

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Senator Charles B. Henderson of Nevada, was shot and slightly wounded in his office in the Capitol today by a man who gave his name as Charles August Brock, 65, formerly of Reno, and now living in Washington. The shot took effect in the Senators wrist and is not considered serious.

Brock was arrested by the Capitol police and rushed to the sixth precinct police station where he was placed in a cell.

Brock told the police that Senator Henderson had been his attorney for twenty years and that he had "swindled him out of $2,000." Clerks in Senator Henderson's offices told the police that the man had been loitering about the office for several days seeking an interview with the senator.

The police declared they suspected the man's sanity and planned to have him under observation.

AFTER PERJURERS IN THE M'GANNON TRIAL

CLEVELAND, Mar. 5. A sweeping investigation into all phases of the two McGannon trials and the trial of [illegible] in connection with the killing of Harold C. EUROPE'S DEBT TO AMERICA IS FIRST OF URGENT PROBLEMS TO ENGAGE NEW ADMINISTRATION

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Europe's ten billion debt to the United States was at the top of the calendar today, as one of the most urgent problems pressing for adjustment under the new administration. This vital question together with others of great moment today confronted the new secretary of the treasury, Andrew W. Mellon, when he took over the affairs of office.

Secretary Mellon's first day was devoted partly to a study of the debt matter.

Secretary Mellon in a series of conferences with David F. Houston, the retiring secretary, and with other officials was made conversant with the status of foreign loans, and went at some length into the various phases of negotiations previously begun by foreign governments relative to the funding of the outstanding obligations.

President Harding's inaugural utterance indicating that suggestions for cancellation of the debts will meet with rejection, apparently stated the new secretary of the treasury upon a clearly defined policy.

Secretary Mellon's conferences today were largely to enable the new treasury head to get a grasp of the problems with which he must soon grapple. It is probable that he will continue in conference for several days with former Secretary Houston and others who have been actively identified with the loan and other problems.

The plans of several of the foreign governments to enter at once upon negotiations looking to the conversion into long time obligations of the demand notes now held by this government were before Secretary Mellon. The British, French and Italian governments have notified the treasury to begin conferences in the very near future.

At the treasury it was suggested that conferences with the foreign financial envoys probably would not be commenced until the whole question of debt settlement terms has been discussed by President Harding and his cabinet.

In what respect the previous plans of the treasury might be changed was left to conjecture. The probability is it was said, that entirely new discussions would be inaugurated without reference to any tentative understandings which may have been reached previously between representatives of this and other governments.

Former Secretary Houston said today he will hold himself in readiness to assist his successor in all matters which may arise relative to the loan and other questions, which are at the forefront demanding consideration. Houston will postpone for several days his departure from Washington.

LODGE IS LEADER CURTIS THE WHIP AND CUMMINS PRES.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Republicans of the senate caucused this afternoon and in complete harmony re-elected the officers who have served the present congress.

Senator Lodge was re-elected as leader; Senator Curtis, of Kansas, as whip, and Senator Cummins of Iowa, as president pro tem.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Harmony is expected to prevail at a conference today of the 49 senators composing the increased Republican majority of the new senate.

The conference, scheduled for three o'clock this afternoon was expected to result in the control of the senate by Republican senators sympathetic with President Harding's policies and purposes being materially strengthened.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Mass., is to be chosen again the Republican leader and chairman of the Republican caucus of the senate. Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, the Republican whip and vice chairman of the caucus.

Senator Albert Cummings of Iowa, is "slated" to succeed himself as president pro-tem of the senate.

Re-election or re-appointment of other Republicans as officers of the Republican organization or of the senate itself, who were chosen when the Republicans regained control of the senate two years ago, is anticipated.

These include David S. Barry, sergeant at-arms, and George A. Sanderson, secretary of senate. There is some talk of contests over committee chairmanship and membership, but it is believed Senator Lodge and his associates who include Senators Penrose and Knox, of Pennsylvania, will put thru the program agreed upon by them.

Any renewal of opposition to Senator Penrose as senate chairman of the finance committee or any other senators of the Republican old guard heading other committees since the organization of the senate two years ago is not likely to get anywhere.

The Republican committee of organization of the house will also meet today for the purpose of reappointing the majority committee members in that body.

Representative James R. Mann of Illinois is slated to be re-elected chairman of the committee. He is one of several Republican leaders of the house who are in favor of dividing the larger committees with a membership of 21 each, between 15 Republicans and six Democrats.

SUMMIT-CO TOWN NEARLY WIPED OUT

AKRON, March 5.—Fire originating from an overheated stove in the garage of Carl Weiland about six o'clock Friday night, destroyed the principal buildings in the center of the village of Sawyerwood and a row of cottages, six miles east of here, made scores of families homeless and resulted in injury by slight burns and exposure to several residents.

It caused damage in earlier estimates reckoned at more than $100,000.

Threatening to wipe out the entire village was only saved by the desperate work of a bucket brigade by citizens and a change in the wind which drove the flames back over the burned ruins.

The fire lasted several hours.

Late this morning Sheriff Pat Hutchinson was called to Springfield Center by the report that during the fire last night, thieves broke into the post office at Springfield Center and got away with $800 worth of postage stamps.

UNFORTUNATE POLISH IMMIGRANTS ARE HOAXED BY HEARTLESS AMERICANS WHO SELL THEM WORTHLESS, VISEED PASSPORTS

NEW YORK, March 5.—"Please! oh please! don't send us back!" That was the tearful beseeching cry of despair uttered time and again today at Ellis Island, until the word re-echoed by scores of immigrant women and children who are the victims of false passports including fake U. S. consulate viseed passports obtained at Dantzig and Warsaw.

Harry H. Schlact, commissioned by the department of labor recently as head of immigrant aid at Ellis Island said that he was convinced after thorogly investigating personally 100 cases of passport frauds within the past three days, that former residents of the United States were responsible for defrauding these poor helpless women of their worldly all, and that action by the U. S. state department would be necessary to stop it. "Owing to the immense rush to America from Poland, long lines of people, with their children and packages came in front of passport officers, including the American consulates at Dantzig and Warsaw, for days, even weeks, sleeping upon the ground at night," said Schlact. "They are approached by alleged Americans, bearing passports and vise stamps.

"They explain to women it will be unnecessary for them to wait indefinitely in line—that for a proper fee 'passport troubles will be smoothed away.' The women are flim-flammed, generally parting with all their cash, above the price of the steamship steerage passage, to get a passport quickly.

"Upon reaching America, the land of their dreams and hopes, they are shocked and disheartened to learn they have been defrauded.

"When told they must go back, they say:—'to what place shall we go? We have sold our all to make the journey. We have no funiture, no home, nothing.'

"Such an experience, coming upon weeks of wait, worry and vile traveling in the steerage,—all endured so they could reach America—is pure tragedy.

"I find that more than 95 per cent of all such passport frauds are perpetrated upon woman immigrants."

For the first time in history, regular full-size hydroplanes are being sold in a department store in New York city.

Middle-Aged Women

Hillsboro, Ohio.—"I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to women of middle age. I was in a miserable condition a year or so before I reached the climateric. I suffered with inflammation and my bladder gave me much distress. I don't believe any woman could be more uncomfortable than I was when I started to take the 'Favorite Prescription.' I am now safely through this trying time and have 'Favorite Prescription' to thank for my present good health, so I advise other women to give it a trial."—MRS. J. W. KESLER, 893 W. REVOLUTIONARY TALK AMONG MONARCHISTS

BERLIN, March 5—The Independent Socialists have informed the government that Bavarian Monarchists are planning a revolution on March 8 if the allies carry out their threats and invade Germany to force their indemnity terms.

A report was issued by the German cabinet saying the allied sanctions will mean economic annexation of the Rhine land to France. They will finally accomplish what President Wilson prevented at Paris. The Paris terms are the death warrant of German industry. If the allies insist we will have to bear the penalty, but France will get less indemnity by imposing military penalties than she would if she accepted our counter proposals.

The hope is expressed on every side that a solution will be found before noon Monday, when the four day ultimatum of the allies expires.

CINCY DRYS AFTER JOHN GALVIN'S JOB

CINCINNATI, March 5—Suit for the removal from office of Mayor John Calvin of this city has been filed in the Supreme court by Attorney George S. Hawke, Hamilton County dry leader.

Attorney Hawke told the court that on Feb 24, after the Miller prohibition emergency act had became effective and the senate had confirmed the governors appointment of state prohibition, Parker, Hawke filed with the Gov. a formal complaint against Mayor Galvin claiming that existing conditions in Cincinnati above cited are due to the Mayors "willful and gross neglect in enforcing the prohibition laws of Ohio, including the Miller prohibition act."

"The court was informed by Attorney Hawke that after a number of written communications were delivered to governor Davis he with a committee responsible representative business men of Cincinnati, waited on the governor and notified him of the alleged violations of law in Cincinnati in an unafraid, open and wholesale way" and urged that action be taken by the Gov. looking towards a stricter enforcement of the prohibition laws thru the regular police channels

Attorney Hawke requested the Supreme court to have a time fixed for a hearing and an investigation of his complaint, and that if the charges are sustained, that Mayor Galvin be removed by the governor.

The C. H. S. Seniors' basketball aggregation easily walked away from the Strasburg Hi school team in Saturday night's game by a score of 48 to 26. The game was one sided.

Pugh led both teams in basketball science. He made 12 field goals and rushed his opponents to the showers continuously. Pugh was ably assisted by "Red" Callahan, who played two roles in the evening's festivities. He started the game at guard and wound up playing at center.

There were about 50 spectators present at the game. This small number of fans, altho scattered out like pine trees on a desert, were enthusiastic rooters.

The local lineup: Callahan and Hopper, guards; Williams and Callahan, center; Pugh and Ricketts, forwards.

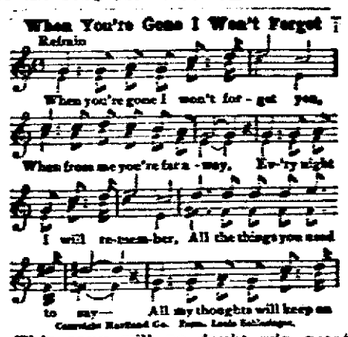
AFTER THE BOOZE JOINTS IN CINCY

COLUMBUS, March 5.—Charging that liquors are being openly sold in thousands of places in Cincinnati, principally in former saloons, drug stores and pool rooms and that drunkenness has increased in Cincinnati over the period immediately following the date when the state prohibition amendment became effective, the state, on relation of Attorney George Hawe, prominent Cincinnati dry leader, today, filed mandamus proceedings in the state supreme court asking the court to compel Gov. Davis to fix a date for hearing formal complaint which Hawe has filed with the governor alleging that Mayor Galvin, of Cincinnati, "is guilty of willful and gross neglect and failure to enforce in Cincinnati, the Ohio laws relating to intoxicating liquors."

This Love Song Brings $10,000

The musical extract below is an excerpt of WHEN YOU'RE GONE I WON'T FORGET, one of the prettiest love songs written since SILVER THREADS AMONG THE GOLD. For the copyright of this ballad, the publisher paid $10,000. This song is the answer song to that stupendous song success which has been sweeping the country: WHEN I'M GONE YOU'LL SOON FORGET and it will become just as popular. The extract of the chorus below was clipped from a copy of the song just received.



When You're Gone I Won't Forget
Refrain
When you're gone I won't for-get you,
When from me you're far a-way, Ev'ry night
I will re-mem-ber, All the things you said to my— All my thoughts will keep on

This song will no doubt win great fame throughout the country owing to its wonderful lyric and tuneful and catchy melody which are well blended together. When once heard, it will never be forgotten. It is splendidly recorded for Player Pianos and Phonographs.

HARDING IS THE 29TH PRESIDENT

There is some difference of opinion as to whether Warren G. Harding is the 28th, 29th or 39th president of the United States.

Harding is the 28th individual to sit in the presidential chair. However, Grover Cleveland was twice president, with an interval of four years between his terms. For presidential purposes, therefore, most statisticians regard him in this connection as two men and rate Warren Harding as the 29th president. "Whose Who in America," generally accepted as an authority, names Wilson as 28th president.

Counting Harding, there have been 39 times that the oath of president has been administered, including presidents who have been elected to second terms and vice presidents who succeeded the men elected to the office. On this basis, therefore, Harding would be the 39th president.

UNCLE SAM ALWAYS WAS FREE WITH HIS MONEY IN A PINCH

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5—The U. S. invested $670,000,000 more in the World War than any other nation that took part in it, according to statistics submitted to the senate today by Senator Spencer, Republican, of Missouri, in a long formal statement.

This country's contribution to the enormous cost of the war reached the total of $44,173,948,225 according to Spencer's figures which he explained he had assembled from official sources.

Of this amount $9,760,000,000 is represented by loans to foreign governments.

Spencer estimated the total cost to the U. S. and the nations associated with her in the war at $139,702,269,225.

In recent years one bit after another of evidence has come out tending to show that there is a light absorbing medium in space.
